The Balloon

In this treatment assignment, you are to make every reasonable effort to restore this balloon to its original condition. The goal is to repair the balloon so that it will hold at least half as much air as it originally did, for a minimum of ten seconds. If you can accomplish this task, you have completed the Balloon treatment assignment. Please complete the questions on the next page. Attach your repaired balloon to this page below.

Good Luck!

The Balloon Findings

In the space below, please describe your experience with the Balloon assignment, and what your results were. What did you learn from this assignment?